

13th Oxford School on Neutron Scattering

<http://www.oxfordneutronschool.org/>

2-13th September 2013

University of Oxford, St. Anne's College

<http://www.st-annes.ox.ac.uk/>

Supported by

Science & Technology Facilities Council

ISIS

School Information

1. Accommodation & Arrival/Registration

All accommodation for residential students is within St Anne's College (see map). You will be able to check in at St Anne's from 1 pm on Monday the 2nd September. Go to the porter's lodge near the entrance to get your room keys. Directions will be posted to the registration. Organisers from the school will staff a welcome/registration desk at St. Anne's from 5 pm -7 pm along with a drinks reception, in the foyer of the Mary Ogilvie Building. NB: non-residential students are cordially invited to the welcome drinks reception. If you plan to arrive at college late then please let us know.

2. Internet Access.

Wi-Fi is available throughout St Ann's College and each student will be issued with an individual user name and password when they check in. Eduroam is available for those who use this service.

3. Meals

For students staying at St Anne's, breakfast and dinner will be served in St Anne's Dining Hall on each weekday of the course. At the weekend, only breakfast will be provided.

- Breakfast will be a self-service buffet, provided between 8 and 9 am.
- A served dinner will be provided at 7 pm each weekday evening (please be punctual for this).
- There are no formal lunchtime arrangements. There are numerous places to eat within a short walking distance of the Clarendon Lab and St Anne's.
- On Wednesday the 11th we will hold a gala dinner at St Anne's for school attendees and honoured guests. Dress for this dinner should be smart. It will start with a drinks reception and canapés at 7 pm in seminar room 9 (Ruth Deech Building) followed by the dinner at 7 30 pm.
- NB non-residential students are invited to attend the gala dinner.

4. Lectures

All lectures will be held in the Lindemann lecture theatre in the Clarendon Laboratory. Tutorials will also be in the Clarendon as described on the programme. See map attached.

5. Tutorials

The tutorial sessions, given by many of the course lecturers and organizers, are intended as an opportunity to build on the topics covered in the lectures. The tutorials may include: working through prepared exercise questions, developing particular concepts covered in the lecture material and the opportunity for short oral presentations. Details will be provided during the school.

6. Evening Lectures

We have arranged 2 evening lectures on the 5th and 10th September. (see the timetable for details). These lectures will be held after dinner in the Mary Ogilvie (5th) and Tsuzuki (10th) lecture theatres. Additional information will be provided during the school.

7. Contacts

For urgent matters, the school organisers can be contacted during the school on:

Luke Clifton: 07867 372431

Victoria Garcia Sakai: 0778 6395315

Sean Langridge: 07990 506709

Ross Stewart: 07585 904900

During the school, at least one of the organizers will be available at all times.

8. Social Programme

Social outings will be organised during the school. Information will be provided during the school.

9. Bookshops

Oxford is famous for bookshops, particularly Blackwell's which has several shops on Broad Street. Even if you don't want to buy books, a visit to the famous Norrington Room in the main shop is worthwhile, simply to marvel at the size and number of books. Blackwell's also has a good art, design and architecture shop and music shops on Broad Street.

Other major bookshops include Waterstone's on Magdalen Street.

For second-hand science books, Blackwell's has a second-hand department on the top floor, and the Oxfam bookshop on St. Giles also has a good selection.

The Works on Cornmarket stocks end of print books and often has a varied collection of science books in the basement.

10. Places to eat for lunch

There are many places to eat for lunch in the city centre, which is particularly good for lunchtime. The Covered Market has a wide range of cafes including organic food. On Holywell Street there is an excellent Japanese Restaurant as well as a few average sandwich shops. The area around Little Clarendon Street has lots of little cafes with the legendary G&Ds ice-cream parlour open to midnight each day. The Ashmolean Museum has a café below its outstanding collections of antiquities (as good as the British Museum in London) and Modern Art Oxford also has a café. Many of the pubs serve traditional English food or variations on this, and most bookshops sell coffee and sandwiches.

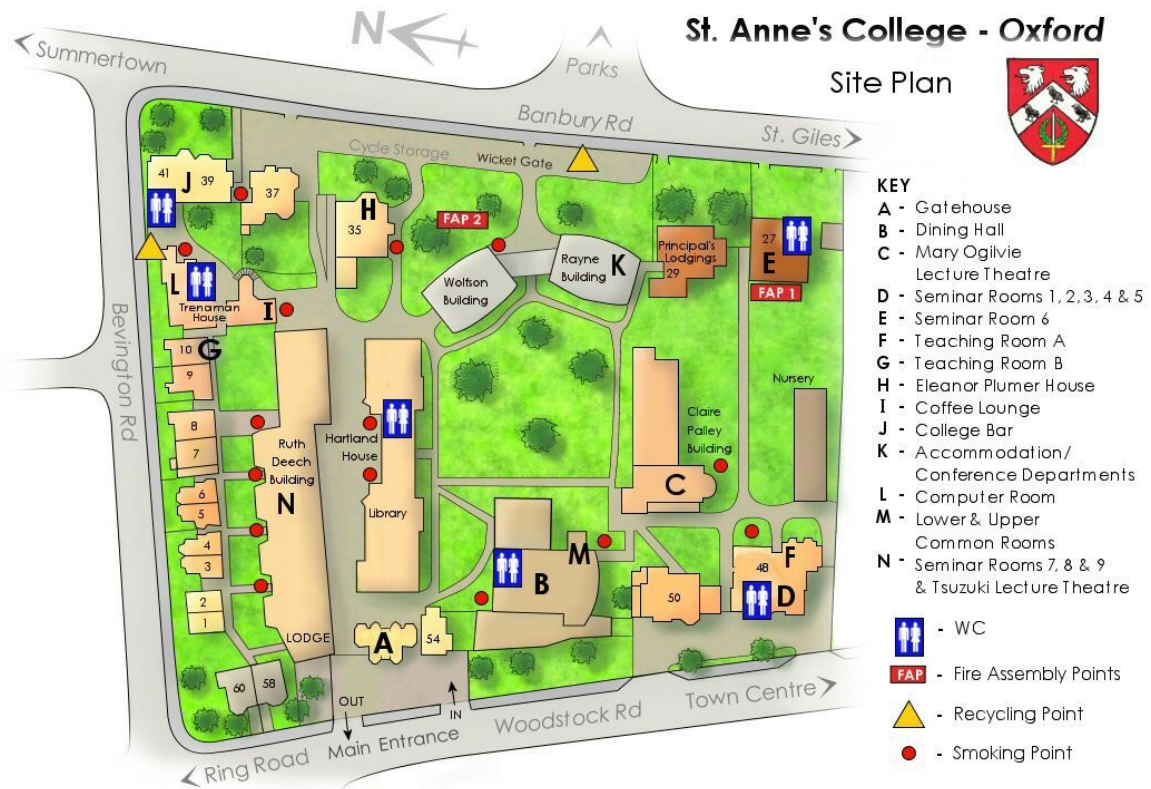

Follow Queen's Lane to the High Street to have coffee in one of Europe's oldest coffee houses, The Grand Café.

11. Punting

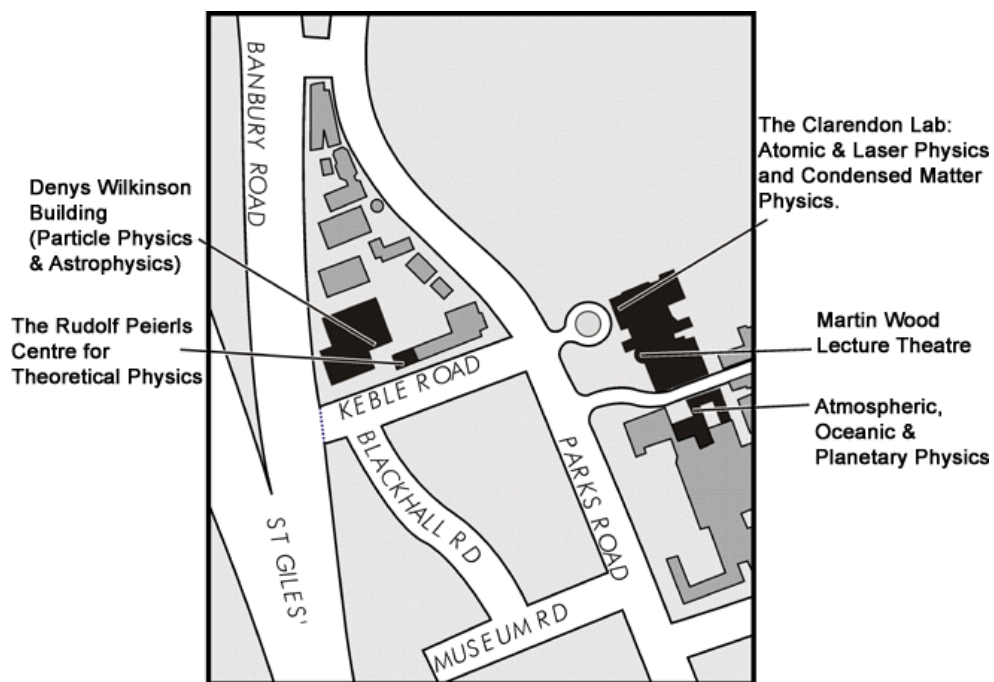

Traditional Oxford river past-time. The best place to hire punts is at The Cherwell Boathouse, Bardwell Road, but you can also hire punts at Magdalen Bridge and Folly Bridge in the town centre.

12. And finally...

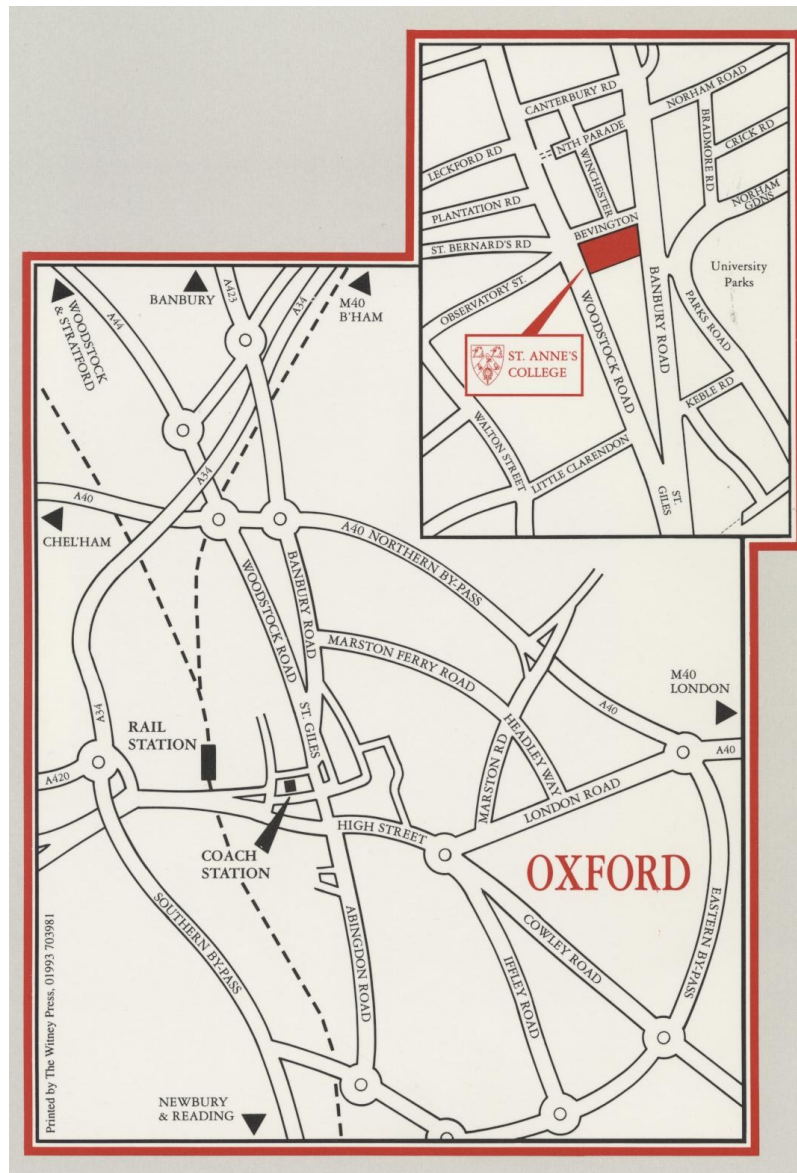

If the information you need isn't listed here, please contact one of the organisers or consult the amazing DailyInfo website www.dailyinfo.co.uk which has comprehensive information about every activity in Oxford. Enjoy the school and if you have any questions please ask one of the school representatives!

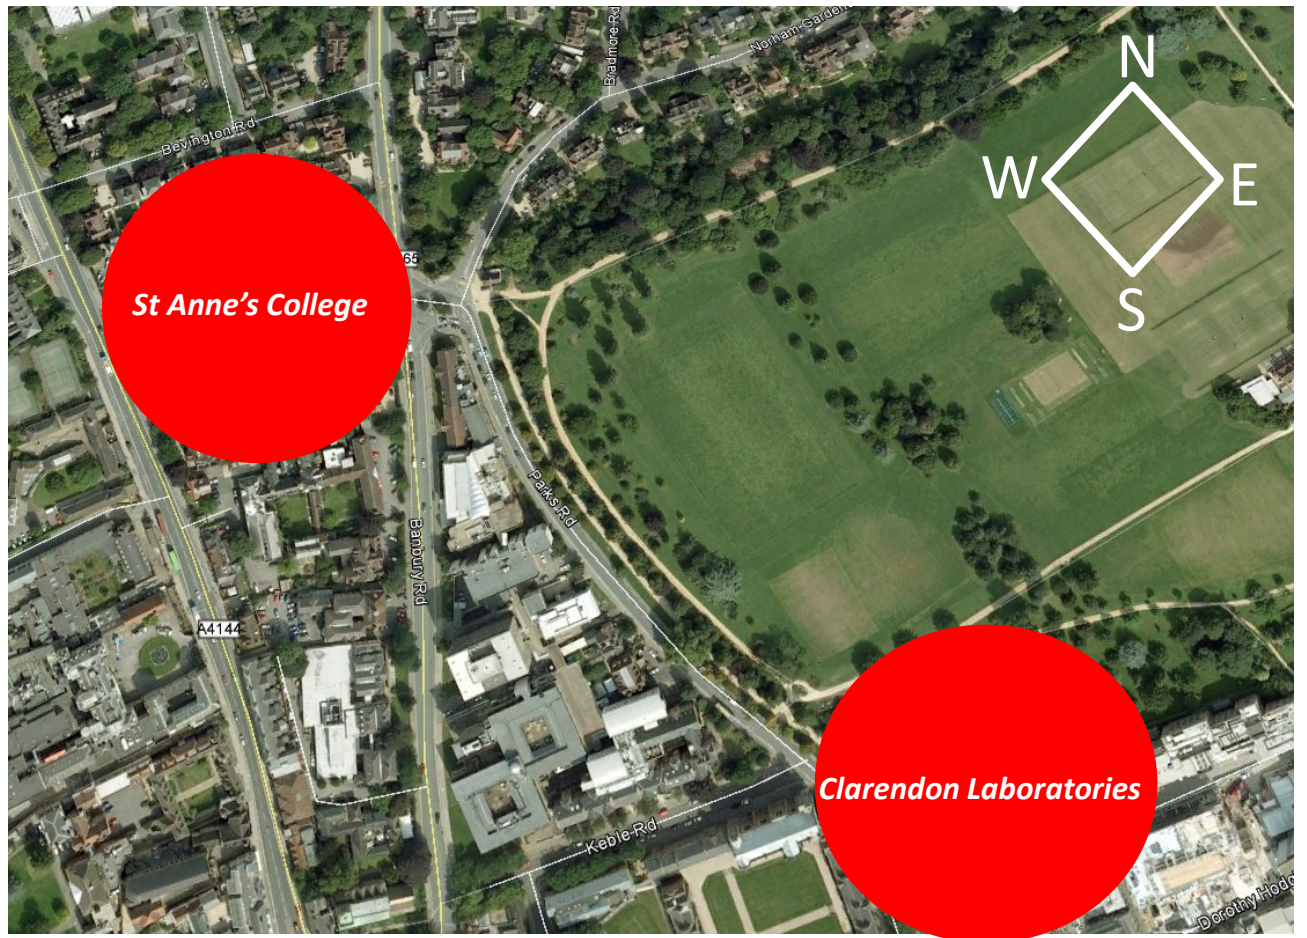

St. Anne's Site plan.

Location of Clarendon Laboratory

Location of St. Anne's College

Google earth view of both St Anne's college and the Clarendon laboratory

General College Information

- 1) We have a “no smoking indoors” policy and we ask that everyone smokes only at the 14 designated points shown on the site plan.
- 2) We have a no cycling policy within College for Health and Safety reasons.
- 3) We ask that all cycles are parked in the area adjacent to the Banbury Road.
- 4) We ask that everyone is quiet between midnight and 08.00 am.
- 5) We ask that you go to the Fire Assembly Points shown on the attached plan in the event of a fire alarm.
- 6) Please make residents aware that fire procedure detail and a site map showing fire assembly points are on the back on each bedroom door.
- 7) We ask that all persons follow the instructions of Lodge Porters in the event of a fire or emergency.
- 8) We ask you to contact the Lodge if you have any emergency or see something suspicious (the Lodge is 01865-274800).
- 9) We recommend that you lock your bedroom door at all times.
- 10) We ask you not to divulge entry door codes to anyone you do not know.
- 11) Check-in is at the Porters’ Lodge from 13.00 hrs.
- 12) We request that you vacate your room by 10.00 am on your last day in College. Secure storage is available at the Lodge.
- 13) It would greatly assist College if you could remind delegates to return their keys upon their departure.
- 14) St Anne’s is an historic campus that has natural hazards. There are control measures in place but all risks cannot be eliminated. Visitors are respectfully reminded of their responsibility to take of themselves throughout their visit.